

3M™ MD6000 Mobile ID Reader

A lightweight, versatile, hand-held reader

The 3M™ MD6000 Mobile ID Reader offers:

- Rapid, mobile identification of individuals
- The ability to make real-time, field-based operational decisions, helping to reduce the need for station-based resources
- Flexibility; works with separate “smart” communications devices—more cost-effective than all-in-one devices

Complete security begins with 3M

3M™ MD6000 Mobile ID Reader

Five different data capture devices:

- Optical, single fingerprint capture
- OCR reader to capture MRZ data from ICAO passports, visas, ID cards, etc.
- Three-track magnetic stripe reader (MSR)
- Contactless RF reader to read the chip data in ePassports and e-IDs
- Contact chip reader

Greater flexibility and affordability

- Not dependent on a single model of PDA or other host device
- Compatible with existing portable processing platforms such as rugged laptops, tablet PCs, PDAs, smartphones or other devices already deployed
- Able to securely transmit data via wireless Bluetooth® technology to a host for processing
- More cost-effective than purchasing an all-in-one PDA
- Allows user to take advantage of future features, increased performance and cost reductions in mobile communications devices
